November Meeting: Linux out of the box, National Capital Freenet

Date: November 7, 2006 at 7 p.m.
Location: Algonquin College (Woodroffe Campus), room B170

Linux out of the box

Speaker: Matthew Awad

Matt will describe some of the experiences at Mooney's Bay Computer as possibly the only Ottawa retailer of new computers to offer Linux. Previous and current offerings will be mentioned, as well as some of the issues and experiences.

About the Speaker

Sales Manager, Mooney's Bay Computers

National Capital Freenet and Linux

Speaker: Brian Shouldice and John Selwyn

Brian Shouldice, John Selwyn and possibly others from NCF will join us to present a bit of background for those in OCLUG who are not aware of NCF. They will also tell us about their DSL offerings. To date the DSL installation instructions are mainly directed to Windows and Mac users, but NCF is hoping we can provide advice and input on how support for Linux can be provided within the framework of NCFs volunteer organization.
