September Meeting: Linux Games and Other Fun

Date: September 17, 2011 at 11 a.m.
Location: Algonquin College (Woodroffe Campus), room T117

Let's kick off the New School Year with a great day of Linux Games!

Bring your kids to play Tux Tournaments on the Big Screen.

Bring your won laptop if you can! And maybe a network cable?

Time is 11:00am to later - say 2pm or even 3pm if you want to keep the party rolling?

Play in a BZFlag tournament. That's a network team game of capture the flag with battle tanks. We are bringing a server set up with version 2.0.x, the default version on Ubuntu.

We are also celebrating Software Freedom Day !!

There will be one or more software demos!

- You can “draw” fancy pictures of data and function in R.
- There is always someone who knows shell script!
- Gimp! Gimp! Gim.. (That means version 2.6 - sorry - couldn't resist.)
