Randy MacLeod

Randy MacLeod has worked at Nortel for six years. For the past three years, he has been developing linux-based embedded systems. Previous to Nortel he spent 10 years doing computer systems development in several particle and nuclear physics labs. He worked at QNX Systems and is microkernel infected. He has been involved in linux since 1995 and fondly remembers the Redhat IPO. Despite being a born-again Californian, he lives in Ottawa.
