Lisa Lovchik

I have been using computers since 1981, and began using GNU/Linux in 2001. I joined OCLUG in 2009.

By trade I usually do computer repair and networking, but have worked with a variety of electronic and electrical equipment as well. I've also done some web administration and lots of technical support.

Skills and interests involve implementing new ideas for attracting newcomers to GNU/Linux, teaching technical subjects, using FLOSS utilities for computer repair (including that “other” OS), and rebuilding old computers with FLOSS to keep them useful.
